Around the Table

Simple ways to practice gratitude together

01 Naming Grace

Rather than simply asking, “What are you thankful for?” invite each person to share a moment from the past year when they noticed God’s grace in an unexpected place.

02 Thanking One Another

Invite each person to express gratitude for someone at the table—not just for something they did, but for who they are or how God’s grace is evident in their life. Share a memory or something you are grateful to have received through that person.

03 People · Provision · Presence

Have a small card at each place setting with the labels: People, Provision, and Presence and space to write beside them. Invite everyone to write down one gift in each category. These could be shared aloud, written down, or gathered in a basket and read during dessert.

May gratitude become a way of seeing.
